

Resolution No. 34/2026
of the Scientific Council of the Stanisław Leszczycki Institute of Geography and Spatial Organization, PAS of 7 October 2026

on the Russian attack on the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine

The Scientific Council of the Stanisław Leszczycki Institute of Geography and Spatial Organization, Polish Academy of Sciences, strongly condemns the Russian attack on the building of the Presidium of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine in Kyiv.

It is our firm conviction that the destruction of scientific infrastructure constitutes an attack not only on Ukrainian science, but also on the values on which the entire international academic community is founded.

The Scientific Council of IGSO PAS expresses its full solidarity with the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine, and in particular with our colleagues at the Institute of Geography of the NAS of Ukraine, with whom we have maintained close professional cooperation and friendship for many years.

Bearing in mind that the Institute of Geography of the NAS of Ukraine is located in the immediate vicinity of the damaged Academy building, we express our hope that all our Ukrainian partners remain safe. We are convinced that the Institute of Geography and the entire National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine will continue their activities despite the Russian aggression, now in its fifth year.
